Celebrating Seniors, Enjoying Life & Laughter

VOLUME 8, ISSUE 47

What's Your Unique Talent?

Everyone has one. So, what's your unique talent and why do you hide it? Let's face it, sometimes people are mean. They might make fun of you for trying something new or for not being as good as they are at something. I still have flashbacks to high school gym class when I was teased for not being able to play basketball as well as others in my class. I thought that meant I should give up all sports. Years later I played tennis with my dad & discovered I had a knack for it. Who knew?

Some people keep their talents hidden because they don't have time to develop them. Jobs & family responsibilities often take up all of their free time, which puts hobbies on the back burner.

We have many folks in our church family with hidden talents. St. Peter's is home to:

- A beer maker
- Several first-class wood workers
- An adult on the Senior Tennis Circuit
- A professional artist/painter
- A former event planner for a university
- A graphic designer
- A kombucha maker
- Several professional photographers
- Many master gardeners
- Jewelry makers
- Many instrumentalists

- Players of obscure instruments
- Puzzle solvers
- Pro-Level Organizers
- Incredible dessert makers
- Many FABULOUS cooks
- Some fluent in foreign languages
- Furniture restorers
- Professional holiday decorators

See, not all unique talents are ones to be hidden. Some are quite sought after. Some even can help pay the bills.

Now for the important stuff.
