Buy A Musical Instrument Day?

Who makes up these things? Foul Ball Week? Really? Who needs an entire week dedicated to that? Vanilla Pudding Day? Solitaire Day? Those sound like fun things to “celebrate” on jammie day.

Have you ever had a jammie day? You know, a day where you do absolutely nothing. You read a book, watch old movies, take a nap, you know, just relax & do nothing productive at all. I haven’t had a day like that in a while.

I have a friend that actually thinks since I work at a church, I only work on Sunday. It always makes me chuckle when folks say things like that. My mother-in-law used to say, “never argue with someone you have to educate.” Wise words.

There are tons of things that go on around here during the week. Come spend a day with us. It’s like watching an ant hill sometimes. But be warned, if you come we’ll probably put you to work.

In the meantime, let’s all plan a jammie day sometime in the near future. I promise it will make you feel better and I think it might be time for one.

Now for the important stuff.

If showing up in a robe and a tiara

is wrong, then maybe I don't fully understand how Casual Friday
actually works.

-PSA—It turns out that portion control does not mean cutting the cake into small, uniform pieces before you eat it. Who knew?

-A true friend is someone who thinks you're a good egg, even if you're a little cracked.

-God creating kittens: "Adorably fluffy, but put razors on their feet."

-Noah flated his stock while everyone else was in liquidation.

-If you're looking for a sign from God to get back to church, this is it!

-If you can't see the bright side, polish the dull side.

-The only people angry at those who speak the truth are those who live a lie.

-If you carry the bricks from your past, you'll end up building the same house.

-Forbidden fruit may taste sweeter, but it spoils faster.

-Faith is the postage stamp on our prayers.

-Beware the high cost of low living.

-God creating ducks: "Waterproof that chicken & give it a kazoo!"

-It doesn't matter how old you are, buying snacks for a road trip should always look like an unsupervised 9-year-old was given $100.

-Gas is so high the mailman is working from home. He called me yesterday to read my bills to me.

-I just bought a head of lettuce. Should I throw it away now or wait two weeks like I usually do?
