Let's Celebrate Reese's Day

May 18th is I Love Reese's Day! When he first arrived, Pastor Judson told us that Reese's cups are his favorite candy (and also the reason he runs 4 miles a day). I found out a few other cool facts you might enjoy knowing about the candy.

-25 million peanut butter cups are made every day at the Hershey, Pennsylvania factory.

-In 1928, H.B. Reese created the peanut butter cups in the basement of his home. We rank his innovation high on the list of modern marvels, like electricity and the Internet.

-The edgy part of a Reese's peanut butter cup is called its ridges.

-The correct pronunciation is "ree-siz", not "ree-sees". It rhymes with "pieces".

-Reese's peanut butter cups are gluten free.

-Reese's cups are made by the Hershey Company. In 1956, H.B. Reese's six sons took over the family business and later sold it to the Hershey Company in 1963.

Now for the important stuff.
