Simple Fun

We had our two oldest grands visiting this past weekend and we had a blast! We went to the zoo, the park, the splash pad, & played with lots of vintage toys! When Papa brought out the pirate ship with the cannon that shot real cannon balls, there was a whole new level of fun!

They would have loved some of the stuff for this week as well, especially Pop Goes the Weasel Day and National Weed Your Garden Day. When the oldest was born, a young church member brought us a Jack in the Box that had a sock monkey in it. (He said he was too old for it.) Our kids love it! They sing along & then fake being terrified when the sock monkey jumps out!

But the most fun they had was digging weeds with Papa. Like Tom Sawyer, he had them believing this would be tons of fun! Yes, that seems odd for toddlers, but “do we get to dig weeds with Papa?” was the most asked question while we were at the zoo. We assured them that we would do that when we got home and that the rain we were sheltering from would make the job easier.

My house is a wreck but we had a great time!

Now for the important stuff.
